PRESS RELEASE: Chiloquin Teen Adventure Camp Begins Monday; Registration Still Open

Chiloquin, Oregon – 7-7-2026

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Chiloquin Visions in Progress (CVIP) is excited to announce that the 2026 Chiloquin Teen Adventure Camp (CTAC) begins Monday, July 13, with six weeks of free hands-on learning, outdoor adventures, career exploration, and community experiences for local teens ages 13–18.

Now entering its second full year, the camp continues to provide opportunities that are rarely available in rural communities, helping teens discover new interests, build confidence, develop leadership skills, and explore future career pathways through engaging, real-world experiences.

Participants will enjoy activities such as hiking, biking, kayaking, swimming, wildlife and nature exploration, visits to local businesses and community organizations, art workshops, transportation and aviation experiences, and much more. Each week combines fun with educational experiences that encourage teamwork, problem-solving, healthy lifestyles, and career awareness. The program was intentionally designed around six themed weeks that expose youth to new skills, community resources, and potential career paths while providing meaningful summer enrichment.

"CTAC is about much more than keeping teens busy during the summer," said Robert Cowie, Executive Director of Chiloquin Visions in Progress. "Our goal is to help young people build confidence, discover new passions, connect with positive mentors, and experience opportunities that can shape their future."

The camp is made possible through the support of numerous community partners, volunteers, sponsors, and local organizations that donate their time, expertise, and resources to provide unique learning experiences throughout the summer.

Registration remains open, and interested families are encouraged to enroll as soon as possible while space is available.
