Hosting Entertainers Steven Gellman & Margaret Wolfe

Steven Gellman is a quintessential folk singer-songwriter with "insightful original songs and homespun stories [that] provide a soul-warming folk rock respite in a busy, chilly world." (Donn B. Murphy, The National Theater) His songs tell stories of everyday life wrapped in notes that will have you humming along in a style that Billboard Magazine has described as "intensely sensitive and impressively intelligent at the same time." Gellman has performed at acclaimed venues such as the Birchmere and Club Passim and has opened for the likes of Al Stewart, Richie Havens, Dar Williams, and Cheryl Wheeler among others. Gellman is a 2022 Wammie Music Award finalist for best folk artist, best folk album, and best folk song.

Hosting Julie Gross Paintings

As an artist in Columbia, Maryland I spend a lot of time in the forest and in nature (which I find to be so therapeutic). I paint the natural landscape as well as local flowers. Much of my work relates to paths, since I feel very strongly about following my path. I feel like many people are rediscovering their own path, and my artwork helps to create a connection to that idea. I also created my own clothing line, where many of my floral paintings are now wearable art. My paintings are for sale at District Arts Contemporary Gallery in Frederick Maryland.

Christine Ortiz

Hi! My name is Christine Ortiz. My husband and I moved to Thurmont with our 6 children 23 years ago. We love it here. I worked at the Primary School as a Special Education Instructional Assistant for 18 years. I love working with children and especially crafting with children. A couple of years ago, my daughter with severe disabilities passed away. To fill the void and find purpose for the many hours I now had, I started crafting. I enjoy creating vinyl and 3D paper projects. I mostly craft for the love of it, but I do sell occasionally to help pay for my hobby. I hope you find something you like.

The Dysfunctional Housewives

You probably know the Dysfunctional Housewives from the Thurmont Main Street Pop Up Shops & Farmers Market!

fun bunch of talented & fun ladies!

We pretty sure they like wine too 😊

Along your Main Street Stroll You will find on the Street:

Patti Camp

Patti Camp is a transplanted Illinois native and moved to Frederick, Maryland in 1994. Her jewel journey began in 2018 when she discovered a box of beads while sorting through a closet. What began as a hobby has blossomed into Lone Leaf Jewels. A hiker at heart, her pieces are a result of her passion for nature and the outdoors. Her collection evolved from beading to wire wrapping. Those first wire wrapped creations were not very good! But after a few years of self-taught practice (thanks, YouTube) her skills are flourishing. She continued to hone her skills and define her sense of style and technique, expanding her personal collection and making items as gifts. After frequently receiving compliments, she decided to monetize her hobby. Never could she have imagined what that has grown into. Having sold over 1,000 handmade pieces she is astounded and humbled by the support and positive response of her customers from across the United States. She lives outside of Frederick, Maryland in her sunny plant-filled home where all her pieces are created with her chubby cat, Alex, acting as the final quality control.

Our Story begins simply as a couple who has loved wine for decades. We have and continue to enjoy wine with our meals, on picnics, and even just savoring it with family and friends. That was the initial motivation to learn how to craft it. We were encouraged with some early wine making success, and it pushed us to become more involved with our hobby. We quickly learned that to make a premium wine requires outstanding grapes and it was challenging finding available local fruit of the highest quality that was responsibly grown.

In 2011 we became serious about our passion. After completing a soil analysis, we planted a small vineyard on our property in Middletown, Maryland; a beautiful rural area which is located in the south western part of Frederick County.

Fordham Lee Distillery, located in Middletown Valley, a pristine, (God's Country Valley) in Maryland, was founded by friends of 50 years on the values of family, friendship and just having a good time.

Our distillery is in honor of our founder's sons, whose legacies are "A Spirit Worth Remembering." The spirit of our existence is to honor our sons who have passed before their time. We age our Bourbons based on the time we were blessed with them.

Our Bourbons and cream-based Whiskeys are all grain to glass, utilizing the finest facilities and technology for distillation. We use no neutral grain spirits in any of our products and all grains are non-GMO, utilizing local farms. The original 10 gallon still from our bootlegger days sits proudly in our tasting room at the Fordham Lee Distillery.

I started using the name T's Rescued Treasures at the flea market and online for my products. In April of 2022, my husband had a major stroke and my whole life changed drastically forever. Following his death, I needed to downsize my home and disperse from farming operations. Since I found I had time on my hands, I started jewelry art as a way of dealing with my grief, sharpen my creativity and simply keep my mind moving. I find my projects aesthetically comforting and enjoy sharing my art for others to adore as well.

5.5 Men

On the corner beside of PNC on the grassy knoll.

6p-7:30p

What started as a few dads putting together a band to support the local soccer club in the Thurmont parade has now become the real deal! 5.5 Men is a northern Maryland band featuring young drummers who always steal the show. After making the Top 5 Best Local Bands for the last 3 years, 5.5 Men was recognized as the Runner-up in this year's Frederick News Post Best of the Best Local Bands! With a set list consisting of a variety of new and old country as well as classic rock tunes, there's something for everyone to enjoy! The mission of 5.5 Men remains to provide solid music and entertainment while mentoring young musicians. For more info: 5point5men.com

Steven Gellman

Senior Benefits

112 East Main Street

6-8p

Steven Gellman is a quintessential folk singer-songwriter with "insightful original songs and homespun stories [that] provide a soul-warming folk rock respite in a busy, chilly world." (Donn B. Murphy, The National Theater) His songs tell stories of everyday life wrapped in notes that will have you humming along in a style that Billboard Magazine has described as "intensely sensitive and impressively intelligent at the same time." Gellman has performed at acclaimed venues such as the Birchmere and Club Passim and has opened for the likes of Al Stewart, Richie Havens, Dar Williams, and Cheryl Wheeler among others. Gellman is a 2022 Wammie Music Award finalist for best folk artist, best folk album, and best folk song.

Frank 'n' Bob

Mechanicstown Square Park
In the Gazebo 6-8p

Atlantic region homegrown guitarist Frank Davis, specializing in Piedmont finger picking blues, has teamed up with veteran San Francisco Bay Area guitarist Bob Flurie, adding the element of improv. Frank 'n' Bob have combined two musical cultures together to create a very unique sound full of spontaneously flavored favorite songs that keep the crowd wanting more.

Paul Zelenka

Center of Life
103 Park Lane
5-8p

Paul Zelenka has been rocking both acoustic and electric guitar for forty years. Paul plays both original music and covers. He has been the lead guitarist for two original rock bands... Seedbox and Imbisonic. Paul's roots are in rock, folk and blues, but you will often hear him play music in other genres including old school country. Paul has traveled the east coast performing live and even played the big stage at Summerfest on Lake Michigan. Now Paul enjoys playing locally in Thurmont and surrounding areas.

Paul & wife Stacie also own a Thurmont local business "Pondscapes" pondscapesmaryland.com
